and people always seemed so pleased at one's remembering what they like. To be sure they do—you and I know exactly how that feels. And every housekeeper who likes to make her guests happy should adopt this simple and delightful method of doing so.

HONOR MEMORY BY MAINTAINING CORNER STANDARD.

Dear Social Corner Friends: As we are looking backward over the years that we have been enjoying the Social Corner of The Bulletin, we find very much to be thankful for. The many new friendships we have formed, that are so joyful and helpful to us, and the interchange of useful suggestions in regard to all departments of home life have been so helpful to each one that a deeper interest has been manifested in the letters from year to year and a stronger bond of friendship has been uniting us closer so that there is nothing to mar our happiness when we meet. Every one is so glad to see every one else when we meet that good time is had by all assured, and no one has any desire to say any unkind thing. Each one brings the good time with them and tries to make everyone happy.

Our hearts are very glad that our Social Corner Editor has finished his work and been called home. We shall long feel his influence and his work will go on and on through the years to come because of his faithfulness in holding up the truth. He has been exerting an influence on the hearts of the people that will remain as the record remains the same. He has been sung or talked into it to please or instruct. May we honor his memory by striving to keep the standard of the Social Corner ever in accord with his high ideal. His dear ones certainly have the sympathy of the Social Corner family.

AUNT MARY.

THAT INCOME TAX.

Dear Social Corner: That income tax had to be paid, but it came hard. To be in the capitalist class has a lifting significance, but when it comes to swearing away hard-earned savings, the "lift" feeling dwindles. At intervals I had studied the "Instructions," especially the "Penalties," but "How to decide" required extreme meditation.

But the last day had come. That income tax must be postmarked before midnight. I dodged in every bank along my lunch route, only to be told "Income tax man at lunch. Return at two." In despair I shrieked. "Have they joined a club. Do they all lunch at the same hour. That's no time for me." I scanned the waiting assembly. A fellow taxpayer exclaimed, "My Gawd! I never saw such a crowd since the day I was born." No, indeed. "Life Saving" was being sold across the hall in one building and wondered what they were playing on the public.

The evening shades were falling. With the income tax sheets floating in my hands, I surveyed the hotel near my home. "No notary in this hotel," sweetly remarked the lady clerk. My feet spun toward the public library, drug store, etc. Briskly a notary was located, lodged in an undertaker's parlors.

"You're income over $5,000," said he. That was a stagger. "Haint figured up to that yet," I answered. The notary was a bachelor (he told me). "Figured up your income?" said he (no feeler). He shook his head. "What's the idea, said I have been figuring every way I know, but can't lose that $1,000."

Meanwhile, lines were being formed. "I'm in a hurry," you know. "Haint must be postmarked before midnight." "But you're losing," said he, "you're losing time in agitation."

I was fumbling with the sheets. Did not know where to begin. I printed my autograph beautifully on the individual work sheet. I tilted my pen and looked at the countless paragraphs labeled, "Did you," "If not," and "How many," etc.

Everybody was doing the same thing and muttering "nuisance" and some other words. "Wish I could lose that thousand," said I. A sympathetic taxpayer smiled and came to my assistance. The internal revenue and state tax were speedily immortalized and those confusing interrogations went down into history as a nebulous experience. That was one better than I had expected.

The income tax looked lean. Being a spinster and without encumbrances, the blank spaces were chased with an X (that is a spinster's life you know). The benevolence space seemed a trifling matter. It was a waste of space, but it was a waste of space. The notary hoped to see me again. I shook my head. Swearing on income taxes in an undertaker's shop in the twilight hours was a nebulous experience.

But the midnight hour was approaching. I fled to the post office. Too late, the door was locked and the obliging porter pointed to the basket on the floor.

Asthma Wouldn't Let Him Lie Down

Isn't had a sign of trouble now for over 9 months.

"A year ago I had asthma so bad my friends thought I would never get over it. I had doctored for a long time without results. I had not been in bed for three weeks and could not sit up straight in a chair. Then I heard of Milks Emulsion and started using it. It was only two weeks later that I was able to go to bed and sleep soundly. After taking eight bottles (44 worth) I found myself completely cured. It is over nine months now since I quit taking Milks Emulsion, and I haven't had a symptom of asthma since." George W. Baker, R. F. P., LaPorte, Ind.

Why shouldn't Milks Emulsion help you? It has worked wonders for others. It costs nothing to try. Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, dispels away all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whose sickness has weakened and whose powerful aid in restoring and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day. This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee: Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions. If it is not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Please send for the bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind., sold by druggists everywhere.

no pen. "Why man," I said, "you must speed up a little. Don't you know this is my income tax, and it must be postmarked before midnight, else I will be liable for jail." His friend a pen. Hastily I scribbled those two envelopes and rushed to the post-office. I dropped those envelopes through the slit in the door. Looked at them long and lovingly. Went back and looked at them again. They were there! My income tax, my hard-earned savings! Am glad, that income tax is paid, as is everybody else! But the question is, was it postmarked before midnight!

MEAT TURNS.

Dear Cornicotes: The housekeeper who may have left-over meat cannot utilize it to better advantage than in making meat turnovers, something which everybody likes. My plan is to use almost any kind of chopped meat, and in case the quantity happens to be small, it can be pieced out with potato or cooked rice. Season to taste with salt, pepper, onion or whatever is relished, place meat, etc., on pieces of short biscuit dough, rolled thin, and cut into circles about the size of a saucer. Moisten the edges of the dough with white of egg, then fold the dough over the meat filling and pinch the edges together firmly. If one can do so, it is an advantage to brush each turnover with the yolk of an egg before placing in the oven. Bake about half an hour in good heat; on removal from oven have ready a brown sauce which when served with the turnovers adds to their flavor and helps to moisten the crust in a way generally liked.

MATERIAL FOR SEWING LESSONS.

Dear Cornicotes: The woman who taught the children's sewing class to which I have referred required each little girl to have a box to hold the necessary supplies, which included half a yard of muslin for samplers, a spool of sewing silk, one of buttonhole twist, one of crocheted silk, a skein of wash twist, a spool of red cotton No. 50 and a spool of white cotton No. 70, a well fitting silver or aluminum thimble, scissors about five inches in length, a paper of needles, about No. 7 or 8, an emery bag to polish needles, a cushion filled with pins, a tape measure and a sewing book about 8x10 inches for mounting samples. In most of the schools the sewing book used is made of Manila paper leaves, with Bristol board covers, tied together with ribbon through perforations. An ordinary note book 8x10 may be used. I want to thank Kitty Lou for the dainty and useful remembrance forwarded to me.

NEWCOMER TO NORWICH.

HAVE LOST A GOOD FRIEND.

Dear Social Corner Writers: In the death of our Social Corner Editor we have lost a good friend. One who was always patient with our shortcomings, overlooked our mistakes, was unbiased in his judgment and entirely fair in his decision for what was best and right.

He always took great interest in that which interested us, as was shown by his own expression upon one occasion, when I brought a note and a good time is always our club day prayer. His generosity and thoughtfulness will always be gratefully remembered. The nobleness of his nature permeated his expressed thought and action and the good it wrought can never be forgotten or obliterated. Delivery: Did you attend the funeral?

COFFEE AND HONEY CAKE.

Social Corner Friends: I am sending some cake recipes which do not call for an extravagant use of the precious sugar and eggs. I felt certain you will like them.

Breakfast or Coffee Cake: One egg, one-half cup raisins, one and one-half cups flour, two-thirds cup sugar, one-half cup butter, two teaspoons baking powder, one half cup butter and lard, mixed; pinch of salt. Beat the egg light without separating, add the sugar and beat again. Mix the baking powder and salt with flour and add alternately with the water. Add the shortening melted. Turn into a fat pan and bake about 20 minutes. When done, break crust with knife handle (punching holes), pour over the cake the following mixture and return to the oven until hardened.

Mixture: One egg beaten with one-half cup of sugar and two teaspoons of cinnamon.

Honey Cake: A half cup of butter, a half cup of sugar, a half cup of honey, half of flour, a teaspoon of yeast powder, two eggs, a teaspoon of caraway seed. Mix the honey and sugar, add the butter melted, the eggs slightly beaten, the flour sifted with the baking powder and the seed. Mix into smooth batter and bake in a fairly hot oven thirty-five minutes.

Honey Tea Cake: One cup honey, a half cup of sugar, two eggs, a half cup of butter, two cups of flour, a scant half teaspoon of soda and a teaspoon of cream of tartar. Bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven.

CROCHETED EDGING.

To The Social Corner: Probably a number of the members are as much interested in crocheting as I am. I pass many pleasant hours with my crocheted hook and am rewarded by having about all the crocheted edging and insertion that I can use.

Those who have a hobby like mine may be interested in the directions for crocheted edging which I find very useful:

Chain 5, join, chain 5, turn.

Tenth Row—5 s between last 2 s, 6 s on 15 s, ch 5, turn. Repeat. Edging—3 dc in m, 3 dc in tip of 1 dc in next m. Repeat.

I write as a new member but I hope it will not mean the crowding out of the Corner of the many familiar writers whose letter are always so eagerly read.

COTTAGE PUDDING.

Dear Sisters of The Corner: Nearly everybody likes cottage pudding, which is a substantial dessert and a more filling than either pie or the ordinary light puddings. One of the best rules for making it is the one which I am sending to The Corner.

Cottage Pudding: Cream three-quarters of a cup with two tablespoons of butter; add the yolks of three eggs well beaten, one cup of milk, two cups of flour into which four teaspoons of baking powder have been sifted; all one teaspoon powdered nutmeg, mix well and fold in the beaten

REMOVING LETTERS FROM SACKS.

Social Cornicotes: There are a number of my acquaintances who find it advantageous to make use of the cloth flour sacks after the flour is gone or emptied. Some I know buy these sacks from bakeries for many uses as it is good cotton cloth. Others have hesitated because of the lettering.

The lettering can be removed by putting a tablespoon of kerosene in two quart of soap suds and boiling the new flour sacks in this mixture. They will come out pure white with all the colored lettering removed.

A special effort will be made next Sunday to reopen the Sunday school, which, owing to weather conditions, has not been in session for several weeks.

Rev. Mr. Humphrey expects to give a stereoscopic lecture on the evening of Easter Sunday, April 4.

The Ladies' Aid society meeting at Mrs. Hawes' Tuesday afternoon was well attended. Committees were appointed for an entertainment and supper to be given the last of April.

Lemuel Carpenter, Fitch Johnson and Herbert Williams were in New Haven this week, delegates from this town to the republican state convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kenyon are visiting at Clyde Kenyon's in New Hampshire.

Mr. Wilson has gone for his annual stay at his muskrat farm in northern New York.

A meeting of the town teachers was held here this week. Mr. Grier, the supervisor, was present.

Mrs. William Miller is at Plainfield caring for Mrs. Jennie Lewis.

The new clerk at Howard Hoxie's arrived Sunday. His name is Pelton Royal Hoxie and his position is a permanent one.

A large auction attracted many people to Napoleon Dufresne's on Black Hill Monday, when the entire farm equipment was sold. Mr. Dufresne will look about for another farm at once, his family staying with relatives in Plainfield. Eric Falt, the new owner, has already taken possession of the Dufresne farm.

Mr. and Mrs. William Connell spent the week end with their daughter at Riverport, R. I.

Mrs. Nathan Exley has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Frank Bailey, at Danielson.

Mrs. Charles Pellet of Danielson has been the guest of her niece, Mrs. H. B. Brown.

In the death of Mrs. Albert Safford, which occurred Wednesday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Marshall P. Safford, Canterbury loses a most respected resident. The greater part of her life was spent in this town and she was a number of years a faithful member of and attendant at the

ROAD SOCIETY

Mrs. Fred K. Chase is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Stewart are soon to move to the house owned by Joseph Noyes, near the Road church. They have lived on the Amos Chesebro farm for a number of years.

Gilbert Billings, who has been at the home of his uncle, A. G. Wheeler, for some months, has gone to his home in North Stonington preparatory to engaging in a new line of business.

Miss Lucy Billings will return to her home today (Saturday) for a short vacation from her school duties in Lyme.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Flood of Hineley Hill were at Maple Lawn Tuesday.

Misses Priscilla and Esther Billings spent Saturday in Westbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sinclair spent Sunday at A. G. Hewitt's. Mr. Sinclair returned to New York Thursday.

No service was held here Sunday.

Miss Dorothy Wheeler has gone to spend the Easter vacation at a maple sugar camp in New Hampshire at the home of a school friend from East Bridgewater.

A man who talks as if he had his mouth full of hot mush will never be able to make a stirring speech.

Monday evening the theatre picture was one of great interest and very instructive. The picture showed the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company of Akron, O., taking the fabric when it first reaches the plant in Akron and showing it through the numerous processes until it becomes the finished tire. A Boy Scout picture was also shown which was very interesting.

The members of the fire department held a meeting in their hall Monday evening.

Harold Sherman spent the week end at his home in Pawtucket.

The Goodyear company recently purchased the Atwood property on State avenue.

Mrs. J. Wood has returned from Pawtucket, where she has been visiting relatives.
